

Welcome New Students & Families!

Family
Center
at Penn

The Family Resource Center at the University of Pennsylvania

is a hub for information, resources, activities, and advocacy for students and post-docs with children. The Family Center provides a forum for parents to connect and develop supportive networks, and offers a welcoming environment for Penn families.

We invite you to engage with the parenting community by participating in our activities, and connecting with us online at www.familycenter.upenn.edu

The Family Center facility will be closed for renovations for much of the Fall 2021 semester. Staff remain available for advising meetings and can answer your questions about navigating Penn as a parent and the resources and benefits available to students and postdocs with children.
